ROBERT HALES

400 pages, 304 x 254 mm

Over 850 colour and over 150 black and white illustrations

£85 Hardback £595 Leather-bound deluxe edition

Robert Hales has supplied many of the world's leading museums and collectors with some of the finest examples of Oriental arms and armour to come onto the market over the last forty years. The items originate from Islamic and Hindu cultures and beyond, including Russia, China, Tibet and South East Asia. Most have not been published before and the illustrations of over 1,000 objects present a brilliant and delightful panoply with concise and informative descriptions.

'Every collector, dealer, and curator will want to have this book and will consult it again and again.'

Donald J. LaRocca

Curator, Department of Arms and Armour
The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York

'As a source of images of the finest Asian weapons, this book is unrivalled and will be an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the subject in the future.'

Thom Richardson

Keeper of Armour and Oriental Collections
Royal Armouries
Leeds
